

— A CONCEPT, BUILT UNPROMPTED

Your website, rebuilt around your ten people.

Nobody hired me. I'm a designer in Thousand Oaks, eight miles from your clinic. I built this because your reviews thank your staff by name and your current site never introduces them.

So the page is built around that: your navy and gold, your lotus, and all ten of your names signed in the script from your own logo.

— WHAT WE DO

Four things, done properly.

Weight management is where we started and it is still most of what we do. Everything else grew around it.

CONCEPT REDESIGN This is an independent concept created by Looking Glass Labs. It is not affiliated with, commissioned by, or endorsed by Lifestyle Med Spa. We may not have access to their real photography, logo, or brand assets, so some imagery and branding here is placeholder or recreated to demonstrate the concept. The finished site would use their own materials.

skincare

Three things your site isn't doing yet.

01 · YOUR PEOPLE

Ten names, no faces.

Your team page lists ten people with real credentials, including a head nurse with fifty years behind her. Your portraits exist, but they sit two clicks down where nobody scrolling finds them. In a category full of anonymous GLP-1 sellers, that roster is the most persuasive thing you own.

02 · YOUR PROOF

An empty reviews section.

Your homepage has a "Google Reviews" heading with nothing underneath it. Someone deciding whether to trust you with a prescription scrolls to exactly that spot, finds a blank, and leaves. Your actual reviews are warm and specific and they are nowhere on the page.

03 · YOUR ANSWERS

Prices people phone to ask.

Your IV menu, HydraFacial tiers and weight-management pricing are all published, but buried on inner pages. Put them where people look and the calls you get are from people ready to book, not people asking what it costs.

— WHAT IT COSTS

Three ways to take this, and why it's priced low.

OPTION 1 · TAKE IT AS IS

~~$2,450~~ $1,000

One-off. You own all of it.

Your content and photos swapped in SEO set up properly

Minor changes to fit
how you work
Live on your own domain

Everything handed over to you

No lock-in of any kind

OPTION 2 · TAKE IT FURTHER

from $2,500

More pages, deeper customisation, built around how you actually run the practice.
Treatment pages, one real service-area page instead of the ~190 near-duplicate city pages
you have now, and booking that matches your four-day week.

OPTION 3 · I LOOK AFTER IT

$99 /month, or $69/month paid annually

On top of the build.

INCLUDED, WITHIN REASON

Hosting and all technical upkeep.
Keeping the SEO
healthy. Text and copy edits, swapping photos, updating hours, prices, menus
and services.
Seasonal changes.

QUOTED SEPARATELY

New pages or sections. Branding or logo work.
Photography. New
long-form writing.
New features or integrations. Anything that is a new project
rather than an update.

Option 4 — marketing support, scope TBD. My day job is CMO in tech: 13+ years at that level, brands with billions of earned impressions and communities in the millions. If you want that pointed at the practice, we can talk.

Why $1,000, not $2,450. It's already built, so I'm not starting from a blank page and won't price it as if I were. Nobody hired me. I'd rather start a relationship than win a bidding war.
